

Claudio CARAMADRE - CV

Claudio Caramadre is the sole administrator of a small to medium-sized family-managed agricultural cooperative in Rome and the Vice President of the Etruscan Roman Bio-District, underscoring his commitment to promoting organic farming and sustainable agricultural practices in the region. His role emphasizes the importance of ecological stewardship, biodiversity conservation, and fostering socio-economic relationships within the agricultural community.