

Antonina Clemente

Bachelor's Degree in Chemistry completed in 2011 and Master's Degree in Clinical, Forensics and Sport Chemistry awarded in 2013 at University of Turin.

Qualification to the profession of Chemist by the Order of Chemists of Piemonte and Valle d'Aosta in 2014.

Dr. Clemente is currently working as Key Account & CO₂ Product Development Leader at Nippon Gases. In her role she is responsible for the management and development of businesses with key-customers in the Food and Beverage field, focusing on CO₂ existing applications and the development of new uses, in order to optimize the processes and achieve the goal of reducing the carbon footprint.