

Giada CORTI – CV

Giada Corti is a PhD student in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at the University of Rome Tor Vergata. She graduated cum laude in Material Science and Engineering in 2023 with a thesis titled “Effects of collagen matrix on the biological and biophysical properties of breast cancer cells”. Her research line is mostly focused on the study of the role of extracellular vesicles on the formation of ectopic calcifications in breast cancer.