

Benedetta De Caprariis

She is an associate professor of chemical plant since 2023 at the Dep. of Chemical Engineering, Sapienza. Her research activity is focused on the vaporization of different types of wastes (biomass and plastics) to produce chemicals and fuels and on the production of sustainable hydrogen by methane cracking.