

Christian PIES – CV

Christian Pies received his diploma and PhD in condensed matter physics from Heidelberg University. Afterwards, he joined Heidelberg Instruments as a system engineer for the DWL system family. Currently, he is the leader of the Process and Application Lab, which is responsible for benchmarking and demonstrations of the Heidelberg Instruments systems.