

Giuseppe SCARASCIA MUGNOZZA - CV

Prof. Giuseppe E. Scarascia-Mugnozza holds a PhD in Forest Ecology and Management from the University of Washington, Seattle (USA). Full professor of Urban Forestry and Forest Ecology at the joint School on Landscape Architecture of the University of Tuscia-Viterbo and Sapienza-University of Rome.

GSM is Head of the BioCities Facility (European Forest Institute) in Rome and coordinates the project on Adaptation and mitigation of terrestrial ecosystems to climate change of the National Biodiversity Future Centre and the project on Regenerative agroforestry for cotton cultivation in Southern Italy, funded by GiorgioArmani Company.

His research activity, with 250 scientific papers and books, has been conducted mainly on Mediterranean forest ecosystems and climate change impacts on trees and forests.